An innovation. Tin has become so expensive that the Cudahy Packing Co. are now putting up their Special Brand Pure Lard in glass jars. It costs no more than in tins. Ask your grocer for it. In addition to getting the best lard that money can buy, the jar is useful in a thousand ways about the house.

SHERMAN IN THE LEAD.

The Caucus Elects His Candidate for Speaker.

FORAKER CONFIDENT AS EVER.

Senator Perkins Sound on the Tariff and Silver Questions.

Importance of Senator Allen's Committee
Chairmanship--Indecent Attacks on Blaine--More Rumors About the Nebraska Governorship.

that there is no foundation whatever for this late and base slander.

The Minneapolis Tribune, Garrison's organ in Minnesota, has within the last week printed a story which it is charged, is intended to do Mr. Blaine further injury in the interest of President Garrison's renomination. The Tribune published a dispatch from Sioux Falls, S. D., referring to the divorce suit of James G. Blaine, Jr., which is shortly to be tried in that city. This article also suggests that the Blaine domestic scandal which was sprung by the Democrats in the campaign of 1884 is likely to be revived again and used with considerable effect by the Democrats, provided Blaine secures the presidential nomination next year. The friends of President Garrison in Washington City discussed the matter today and were also very frank, saying that they did not sanction any plan of this kind, and it was the general opinion of those who had heard anything about the publication that it was unwise and impolitic in every sense. Senator Hansborough, of North Dakota, said to the Post-Intelligencer correspondent tonight that no words of condemnation were strong enough to state his opinion of the man or newspaper that would attempt to smirch the character of any public man by reviving or printing any domestic scandal relating to any member of his family who was unfortunate enough to be connected with divorce proceedings.

THE SENATE COMMITTEES.

Senator Allen Highly Honored--Boston
"Journal" Compliments Him.

WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 2.—[Special.]—A careful study of the makeup of the committees in both of the congressional branches shows that the West and Northwestern states have fared remarkably well. On the Senate side some of the members from the new states did not get all the committee assignments that they desired, but on the whole the majority of those members have been placed upon committees where they will be able to do excellent work for their several states. It was not expected that the Northwest would get very much in the way of important committee assignments on the House side. The state of Washington however, was very well treated. Congressman Wilson was placed upon several important committees and will be able, no doubt, to do good work for his constituents.

Senator Allen secured only one chairmanship, it is true, and all along the committee of which he is at the head has not been considered really important.

It is a fact, however, that it is one of the most important committees of the Senate, although it has not been as yet made a standing committee. It can be stated, however, upon excellent authority, that the committee will probably be made a standing one at this session of congress, and it will then become one of the most important ones in the upper branch of congress.

As has already been telegraphed, Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, has been at the head of the committee on relations with Canada for several sessions, and that he retired from the chairmanship to make a place for Senator Allen. The conservative Boston Journal in discussing the new committee assignments recently stated that the committee on relations with Canada has always been considered a minor committee, but, in reality, it is, says it, one of the important ones.

In speaking of Mr. Allen's assignment to the chairmanship, the Boston Journal credits him with being one of the ablest senators from the new states. In a local sense the committee on relations with Canada is very important to the state of Washington, and it is probable that Senator Allen, as the head of this committee, will be able to accomplish a good many things for his constituents in shaping the deliberations of legislation that this country desires to bring about with Canada, and will also be able to raise this committee to a very much higher standard than it is at present.

There have been some criticisms in the press of Washington upon Senator Allen's course in not crowding himself to the front and trying to secure places or chairmanships on other committees. It is apparent here that these criticisms are unjust, for Senator Allen is held in high estimation by his colleagues, and they were very anxious to give him some important place in the make-up of the committee, and did so by placing him at the head of the committee on relations with Canada.

Senator Squire, of course, is on some very good committees and will use every effort to carry out important legislative work for his state in conjunction with Senator Allen, Congressman Wilson and other colleagues from the Northwest.

THE NEW KANSAS SENATOR.

He Is Not for Free Silver--Ingrals Approves Selection of Perkins.

TOPKA, Kan., Jan. 2.—Senator Perkins, when asked today if his position on the tariff and silver would be radically different from that of Senator Plumb, replied:

Sen. Plumb had radically changed his views on these questions with the past year. I voted for the McKinley bill and Plumb voted against it, but he had lately given it as his opinion that it was a wise piece of legislation.

As far as the silver question is concerned, I do not know that the figures are at all material.

It is generally understood that the senatorial joint caucus will not be held until
